Dr. Richard Harris started Delray Family Dentistry in 2005 after owning a practice in Fresh Meadows, New York for 18 years. His associate, Dr. Christopher Sepe, also a New Yorker, joined the practice three years ago, merging their dental expertise and New York state of mind mentality to their patients, providing gentle, comprehensive care utilizing the latest technology.

Harris and Sepe place and restore implants and stay current on continuing education with an emphasis on Implant Dentistry and Cone Beam 3D Imaging, allowing immediate placement of implants. They provide state of the art dentistry with advanced technologies performed in the office including Cerec (one day) crowns and have advanced knowledge of CAD/CAM technology and are Invisalign certified.

Same day smile make-overs are custom tailored in the office, as opposed to being sent out to a lab “where they don’t know what the patient looks like,” explains Sepe. “We actually custom fit the teeth in the patient’s mouth for their face and for their mouth to have a customized unique look reflecting their personality, as opposed to coming out with teeth that don’t look natural.”

“When you’re here, you know you are not just another number. We’re very conservative in our approach and we treat everyone like family, with the kind of dentistry we’d perform on our own mother, so to speak,” they said. “Everyone at Delray Family Dentistry gets the amount of individualized attention that they need,” Harris says. ■
